With regards to Bonneville's role in the promotion of renewables particularly wind (p.16 Draft Council Recommendations for Future Role of BPA in Power Supply); We find that wind is not developing in the current market and does need additional demand. It seems it would further serve Bonneville's conservation mission to have a stronger wind component to balance power demands and allow the timely storage of water. We would support a policy of "sustained orderly development" for wind . We concur with the comments of the Renewable Northwest Project generally and the position on renewables in particular.
